AIMS OF THE DOCUMENT

The aims of this document are to:

- define the structure of the LLM in International Tax Law programme;
- specify the programme award titles;
- identify programme and level learning outcomes;
- articulate the regulations governing the awards defined within the document.

AIMS OF THE PROGRAMME

The LLM International Tax Law introduces students to topical issues around UK and international tax issues. This includes the law of direct international taxation (covered by the unit “International Taxation”) as well as indirect international taxation (covered by the unit “International Indirect Taxation”), as well as broader commercial law subjects. Tax issues are relevant in tax and non-tax areas alike such as commercial law, corporate law, competition law, and cyberlaw. International business transactions as well as the management of state entities and other state entities are all subject to the ramifications of UK and International Tax. The LLM in International Tax Law provides solid foundations within this field of law complemented with an important expertise of international commercial law. Students are also able to choose from complementary fields, such as corporate and cyberlaw to create a unique portfolio of subjects covered within this programme.

In summary, this programme aims to develop graduates who:

- Possess a clear, systematic and critical body of knowledge at the forefront of international tax law.
- Can demonstrate a clear ability to engage in self-directed and scholarly research, through which they will use the knowledge and skills they have gained to create their own hypotheses, and data with which to evaluate them.
- Can act autonomously in planning and implementing at a professional level and can communicate their conclusions clearly to specialist and non-specialist audience.
- Utilise a wide range of transferable skills and competencies that will enable them to operate effectively in their future career, their own personal development and lifelong learning.

ALIGNMENT WITH THE UNIVERSITY’S STRATEGIC PLAN

This programme aligns with Bournemouth University’s new Strategic Vision (BU 2025) of inspiring learning, advancing knowledge and enriching society. The Faculty of Media and Communication delivery planning supports teaching which benefits from research of international excellence and expertise in professional practice to enable the delivery of research and practice led and informed teaching and prepares students for work in the legal professions or other graduate employment. In addition, many units cover elements relating to the UN Development goals such as of Lifelong Learning (UNSG 4), Innovative and Sustainable Industry (UNSG 9), and Sustainable Patterns of Production and Consumption (UNSG 12)—and encouraging students to consider their responsibility as both professionals and citizens for shaping the world they will leave behind.

LEARNING HOURS AND ASSESSMENT

Bournemouth University taught programs are composed of units of study, which are assigned a credit value indicating the amount of learning undertaken. The minimum credit value of a unit is normally 20 credits, above which credit values normally increase at 20-point intervals. 20 credits is the equivalent of 200 study hours required of the student, including lectures, seminars, assessment and independent study. 20 University credits are equivalent to 10 European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) credits.

Programme Specification - Section 2

The assessment workload for a unit should consider the total time devoted to study, including the assessment workload (i.e. formative and summative assessment) and the taught elements and independent study workload (i.e. lectures, seminars, preparatory work, practical activities, reading, critical reflection). Assessment per 20 credit unit should normally consist of 3,000 words or equivalent. Dissertations are distinct from other assessment types. The word count for a dissertation is 15,000 words recognizing that undertaking an in-depth piece of original research as the capstone to a degree is pedagogically sound.

STAFF DELIVERING THE PROGRAMME

tax Students will usually be taught by a combination of academic staff supplemented with colleagues who have relevant expertise including – where appropriate according to the content of the unit – academic staff, qualified professional practitioners, demonstrators/technicians and research students.
